Boutique Complex with High Returns & Option for Future Short Term Rental

A passion project developed by the current owner for use as five or six apartments, this complex provides the purchaser with a multitude of options and scope for use.

Presently configured as five apartments, there are four residential leases in place attracting a gross income of $1,940 per week. The fifth apartment, retained for the owner's personal use, would attract approximately $430 per week with a permanent tenant in place.

Neighbouring parkland creates a serene environment in a location walking distance from Por...
